

HOW TO NAIL THAT JOB:

Make the Most of Your Working Style

Join Out for Australia for this national professional development workshop series!

Everyone is uniquely different, and this includes the ways that we work in order to perform at our best. We can achieve better results when we identify everyone's unique strengths and respect the variety of working styles within our teams.

Expect an interactive, tailored workshop exploring your unique working styles, followed by a case study-like group exercise and a panel of diverse LGBTQ+ and ally speakers.

Who can come:

All LGBTQ+ students, allies, and young professionals are invited to attend in order to find their superpowers and how to identify the strengths of others!
