  - We ran 652 laps

- We put up a tent to keep people's possessions dry
- There was lots of free real estate, so we got to put up our marquee next to Unigames
- Early bird sign ups started ridiculously early
- Is it worth downgrading this event so we can focus on other things?
  - No, we already don't put that much effort in
  - There's not actually that much we can do to put less effort in

Halloween Party

- It's difficult to push the event
- Will doesn't really know what he's doing
- Boost the Halloween event
- We have enough tickets to run the event
- More or less going
- Created budget: ~$620, depending on on-the-day purchases and the security quote
- UCC looking into cocktails (but maybe Panto will do that, who's to say?)
  - Two different cocktails, one beer, one cider
- 31 tickets are needed to make a profit, assuming no alcohol is purchased
  - Need to sell 25 if everyone spends $8-$10
- We can sell the alcohol people don't drink to the tav
- Unigames handling photography and barbeque
  - There will be a sausage sizzle
  - Vegetarian option
  - Snacks will be available
- Ed and Alaura will work on a catering contingency plan
- It apparently looks easier to buy tickets from Unigames
- Word of mouth is working in our favour
- Motion to approve budget
  - $620 not on alcohol, $995.50 on alc = $1615.20 all up
    - F: Unanimous
- Ed Kamman has wretched taste in cider
- There will maybe be lockers
- There are plenty of volunteers
- Patrons like events that are attended

Camp
